Narrator 1: (holds apple up in audio silence) It’s amazing how destructive some of our choices can be. This was the most destructive choice ever made. Once the man and woman disobeyed God and ate of the fruit, they were vulnerable. Darkness pierced into their souls and tried to extinguish the Light that had been placed within them by their Creator.

Narrator 2: Their once flaming Light was now reduced to a mere flicker. Darkness had overtaken them... but not completely. Within that tiny flicker remained a spark of hope and the free will to choose whether to follow the Darkness or the Light.

Narrator 1: As centuries passed the effects of Darkness took its toll on humanity.

Narrator 2: Neighbor stole from neighbor.

Narrator 1: Brother fought against brother.

Narrator 2: Nations warred against other nations.

Narrator 1: Many people even became lovers of the darkness and completely forgot about the God of Light.

Narrator: (lights advent candle 2) When all seemed lost, the God of Light began to send messages to the people through His prophet Isaiah. This messenger of Light proclaimed that a Savior was coming and it was now time to prepare the way for His arrival.
